Dear Mrs. Niejadlik:

I wish to express my grateful thanks to you and the Board for the kind gesture in naming our Field House at Southern the James W. Moore Field House.

Thirty-two of my forty-six years in education was spent in Connecticut and at this point, I believe I regarded it all as more of an avocation rather than a job. Your gracious act served as a happy climax to an enjoyable career.

Sincerely,

James W. Moore

Bunny: Sorry you missed my retirement party it was a real bash!

Dear Manson:

I have your letter of September 30 concerning the naming of the Field House. We will bring the matter before the Planning Committee in October and also before the Executive Committee in that month. It seems to me that Board action should be delayed until the December meeting.

Sincerely,

James A. Frost

Dear Jim:

At about the time our Field House was opened, there were those who expressed the opinion that it should be named after Dr. James W. Moore, who is the Director of our HPER Division. At the time, I discussed this with an appropriate Board committee--probably the Planning Committee--and we all agreed that we should adhere to previous policy that normally buildings would not be named after people who are currently serving full-time as employees of the Board of Trustees. Accordingly, we deferred action on the naming of the Field House.

In January 1977, Dr. Moore will officially retire and thus becomes eligible to have the Field House named after him. I have discussed this matter with members of the HPER faculty and with members of my Cabinet, with the result that all are in cordial agreement that we should name the building the James W. Moore Field House.

I would appreciate having this proposal placed on the agenda of the Planning Committee at its next meeting, hopefully in Executive Session so that this can be kept confidential from Dr. Moore until an appropriate time such as a retirement dinner at which action by the Board of Trustees could be officially announced.

At such time as this proposal is placed on the agenda of the Planning Committee, I will then be fully prepared to justify the naming of the building after Dr. Moore.

Sincerely yours,

Manson Van B. Jennings
