RESOLUTION

concerning

ACADEMIC ADMINISTRATIVE STRUCTURE
AT EASTERN CONNECTICUT STATE COLLEGE

March 4, 1977

WHEREAS, Changes in enrollment and in mission have required a reexamination of the academic administrative structure of Eastern Connecticut State College; and

WHEREAS, After consultation with a committee composed of faculty members, students, and administrative officers, the President has recommended that the instructional programs of Eastern Connecticut State College be organized under three deans who report to the Vice President for Academic Affairs and that each dean be the chief academic officer for one of three schools, the School of Arts and Sciences, the School of Professional Studies, and the School of Continuing and Career Education; now therefore be it

RESOLVED, That the academic administration of Eastern Connecticut State College shall be composed of a School of Arts and Sciences, a School of Professional Studies, and a School of Continuing and Career Education, each supervised by a dean reporting to the Vice President for Academic Affairs; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the position Dean of Arts and Sciences is hereby created at Eastern Connecticut State College and the position, Director of Extension is changed to Dean of Continuing and Career Education.
