

P.O. Box 2008, New Britain, Connecticut 06050
(203) 827-7700

RESOLUTION

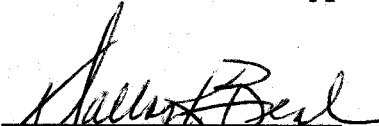

HONORING

DR. LOUIS I. KUSLAN

June 17, 1988

- WHEREAS, Dr. Louis I. Kuslan devoted over forty years of his life to higher education in Connecticut, and
- WHEREAS, Dr. Kuslan served Southern Connecticut State University and its students as Professor of Chemistry, Dean of Arts and Sciences, and Vice President for Academic Affairs, and
- WHEREAS, Dr. Kuslan is held in deep affection by generations of students who remember his lectures as being not only demanding and insightful but also as being infused with warmth, scintillating humor, and atrocious puns, and
- WHEREAS, Dr. Kuslan compiled a notable record of scholarship, especially as a science historian writing on early science and technology in Connecticut and New England, and
- WHEREAS, Dr. Kuslan worked diligently for two decades to secure a new science building for Southern Connecticut State University, such efforts ultimately being crowned with success, therefore be it
- RESOLVED, That as an expression of their respect for Dr. Louis I. Kuslan and in appreciation for his long years of distinguished service to the citizens of Connecticut and to Southern Connecticut State University the Trustees of the Connecticut State University approve the designation of Room 329, Jennings Hall, at Southern, as the Louis I. Kuslan Chemistry Library.

A Certified True Copy

Dallas K. Beal
President

An Equal Opportunity
Employer